First Down with Fr. Eric

Dear Friends,

I recall in my youth the days before the end of the year. The radio or television would have programs that had a Year In Review. There would be pictures, voices and videos of many of the major events of the past year. Some things I would remember and be amazed by. Other events, I forgot or could not recall. They were not in my memory.

As we get older and accumulate more years, we can get a little fuzzy on past events or trying to remember what years certain things happened. Yet there are some things that happen we cannot forget.

The same happens in our relationship with God. God offers us so many blessings that we cannot easily remember them all. Other blessings we remember with clarity. The faith journey is to REMEMBER all that God has given to us. We remember to GIVE THANKS for this past year, and recall the moments that God's guiding hand was present in our lives.

As January 1, 2024 approaches, we remind ourselves that there is much to be grateful for and this weekend we tell God, thank you for every good gift. Blessings to all of you as we begin another year.

Peace in Christ,

Fr. Eric

A Prayer to Prepare for the Year Ahead

Dear God,

Thank You for new beginnings. What an incredible day this is with a fresh year's potential stretched out before me. I want to be found faithful this year in each and every opportunity You bring to me. Thank You, Lord, for new beginnings. I pray this in Jesus' name. Amen. — Pastor David McGee

Stewardship

Opening prayer:

Lord, you designed all perfectly. You designed our love to reflect yours, yet we failed to love as you do. Please bless us with the grace to live lives of holiness, especially with our families. Teach me how to be the best person you have called me to be within my family and to never take for granted the love and support I have from those closest to me. Today, please bless those who struggle to find peace within their homes. Amen.

Why did God ordain that Mary marry Joseph? It wasn't for protection. God could have assigned Mary and Jesus as many guardian angels as he desired. It wasn't to put food on the table. God fed the Israelites manna and quail. We see that in God's intentional and perfect design, a family is made up of a mother and a father. While single-parent homes demonstrate a heroic virtue on the part of one parent doing the job of two, the best scenario is one in which both sexes work in self-sacrificing complementary to one another. Both mother and father offer an indispensable witness to a child, as we hear in the first reading from Sirach. God the father designs, unique roles for both mother and father, and empowers them with his authority, and with a mission: to raise up children, who will know and love him.

Raising a homely family requires that the souls doing the raising know the Lord, and seek him daily, which St. Paul stresses to the Colossians in the second reading. Practically speaking, a virtuous life looks like a home in which the parents (and kids) know they are loved by God and offer compassion, forgiveness, gentleness, and patience. It will be a home ruled by peace-filled hearts in which the Word of God dwells. A holy family will fill the air with wisdom, gratitude, joyful music, all "in the name of the Lord."

Even in times of sorrow and (impending) suffering, as found in the gospel, a holy family keeps their eyes fixed on God. Unwavering in love, faithful through trials, and confident in God's mercy, a holy family is one that "fears the Lord and walks in his ways."

Social Justice

As the year 2023 comes to an end, the Social Justice and Outreach team wishes all of you, your family, and friends a very Happy New Year. We are always here to assist you in bringing your ministry talents and experiences into the community around us. Think about what discipleship looks like for you this upcoming year. Consider deepening your own spiritual development and faith formation or outward service ministry to the community.

New Year Prayer

Thank You Lord for giving me
The brand new year ahead.
Help me live the way I should
As each new day I tread.
Give me gentle wisdom
That I might help a friend,
Give me strength and courage
So a shoulder I might lend.
The year ahead is empty,
Help me fill it with good things
Each new day filled with joy
And happiness it brings.
Amen.

Tips on Managing Stress during the Holidays
WEEK 3

- Avoid alcohol and drugs. They don't actually reduce stress: in fact, they often worsen it. If you're struggling with substance abuse, educate yourself and get help.
- Spend time in nature. Studies show that time in nature reduces stress.
- Volunteer. The act of volunteering can provide a great source of comfort. By helping people who are not as fortunate, you can also feel less lonely or isolated and more connected to your community.
- Find support. Whether it's with friends, family, a counselor, or a support group, airing out and talking can help. Consider attending a free support group provided by your local NAMI affiliate. See NAMI information to the right under Care and Support.
- Experiencing a crisis, you can call the National Suicide Prevention Line at 1-800-273-8255; use the Crisis Text Line by texting NAMI to 741-741 to connect with a trained crisis counselor for free, 24/7 crisis support via text message.
- Keep up or seek therapy. If you're feeling overwhelmed, it may be time to share with your mental health professional. They can help you pinpoint specific events that trigger you and help you create an action plan to change them. If you're already seeing a therapist, keep it up.
