First Down with Fr. Eric5 0 4 0 30 20 10

Dear Friends,

This entire week our campus will be filled with children for our annual Vacation Bible School. This year's numbers are the highest ever as they will be greeted by our formation team, staff, and both adult and teen parishioners who will again make this the most exciting time for them.

I really like the decision we make every year to have the entire campus belong to the children of Vacation Bible School in the mornings, so we dedicate our space to ministering to them.

We are asked to keep all the children, all the ministers of our parish, and the families of the children in our prayers this week. The children are so open to learning the lessons of Jesus and how to live as his followers.

Next Sunday at our 10:30 am Mass we will have the children sing some songs they learned during the week and we will celebrate with them all they have learned.

My thanks to the many people who participate as it takes a lot of preparation and work to make this happen.

Peace in Christ,

Fr. Eric

Christian Disciples in Mission Living Beyond Sunday

BY ERIC TAMAYO, Pastoral Associate

The Feast of Corpus Christi

Today we celebrate the Feast of Corpus Christi, also known as the Solemnity of the Body and Blood of Christ. It is a day when we recognize and celebrate the precious gift that we have in the body and blood of Christ. The Eucharist is the source and summit of Christian life. All other ecclesiastical ministries and works of the apostolate are bound up with the Eucharist and are oriented toward it. The Eucharist contains the whole spiritual good of the Church, namely Christ himself. On this feast we celebrate the real presence of Jesus Christ in the Eucharist. We recognize the presence of Christ's body and blood, soul and divinity in the Eucharist. The origin of this feast day begins with a mystical vision and a miracle.

St. Juliana of Liège had a great devotion to the Blessed Sacrament from her youth. At the age of 16 she had a vision of the Church under the appearance of a full moon which had a dark spot. She heard a voice tell her that the moon was the Church and the dark spot represented the missing feast in honor of the Blessed Sacrament. She began to promote the need for a feast in honor of the Sacrament and confessed her vision to the bishop who later became Pope Urban IV.

In the town of Bolsena, Fr. Pietro of Prague began to have doubts about the presence of the Lord in the Eucharist. In 1263, while celebrating the Mass, at the breaking of the bread as he was saying the words of consecration he noticed blood starting to flow from the Eucharist covering the altar cloth and the corporal. Fr. Pietro was amazed and no longer doubted the presence of Jesus in the Eucharist. It was a Eucharistic miracle. Pope Urban IV, hearing of the miracle, ordered that the precious cloth covered with precious blood to be brought to the Church of St. Mary in Orvieto. Pope Urban IV then ordered an annual celebration of the Solemnity of Corpus Christi. This began the feast of Corpus Christi which has become one of the biggest celebrations in the Church Calendar. To this day you can still go to the town of Orvieto and venerate the cloth covered in the blood of Christ.

Stewardship

Jesus, you were "broken and shared" so that I may receive you in the Eucharist. Give me the eyes to see the immense love contained for me in the sacrifice of your Body and Blood. Help me to live in that same love today and always. Amen.

In the first reading, we are given a glimpse of how the covenant with God and his people was sealed at Mount Sinai; the blood of sacrifice upon the altar of sacrifice. In the second reading, the author of the Hebrews is trying to illuminate the difference between the sacrifices, liturgy, and Temple of the old covenant and how they are forever changed by Christ, the new high priest.

It's only after this background is in place that we are led to the upper room in the gospel account of the Last Supper. We are told that the new covenant will also be sealed with blood, but Jesus boggles the apostles' minds (and still ours two thousand years later) when he reveals that he will be the lamb that is sacrificed upon the altar of the Cross. Things are indeed changing. The old liturgical practices will give away to a new understanding of Christ's sacrifice on the Cross, when his blood will be poured out and flesh eaten from new altars (at Mass in our parishes). The great gift and mystery of the Eucharist have roots deep in the old covenant, but through the Church and its sacraments, Jesus makes all things new.

Proujer for SUMMERTIME

Loving God, Creator of all times and places, we thank you for the gift of summertime, the days of light, warmth and leisure.

Thank you for the beauty that surrounds us everywhere we look: the multi-colored flowers, the deep blue of the sky, the tranquil surface of lakes, the laughter of children at play, people strolling in parks, families gathered around picnic tables and more time to spend with family and friends.

As we open our eyes and ears to the landscape of nature and people, open our hearts to receive all as gifts. Give us that insight to see you as the Divine Artist. Help us to realize and appreciate that you are laboring to keep all in existence. Warm our souls with the awareness of your presence.

Let all the gifts we enjoy this summer deepen our awareness of your love so that we may share this with others and enjoy a summertime of re-creation.

Social Justice

At least 645 people in Maricopa County died of heat-related issues last summer in 2023, an increase of over 50% from the previous year. At least 45% of these cases involved people experiencing homelessness. And two thirds were folks 50 years of age or older.

Those who are unsheltered are faced with an increased risk of death or heat-related illnesses during the summer months due to consistent exposure and lack of resources. Besides the normal physical ailments that we hear about (heat cramps, heat exhaustion, heat strokes), those who live on the street endure other hardships due to our extreme weather conditions.

People experiencing homelessness are already under significant stress from difficult living conditions. Adding unbearable heat for long periods can reduce coping mechanisms and a person's temper may increase as patience and tolerance shorten. Several other troublesome issues can also arise as a result of extreme heat, including:

- Insomnia can increase due to intolerable sleeping conditions. Dehydration and respiratory distress are very common.
- The inability to keep food cool in extreme heat conditions can increase the risk of food spoilage and heightens the risk for illness for those without access to refrigeration.
- Hot temperatures can also cause some to take increased risks in order to beat the blazing heat by swimming in dangerous and/or polluted waters (canals), trespassing to access cool areas, drinking alcohol more heavily than normal, using drugs to escape the everyday/every hour misery.
- Alcohol and coffee are diuretics which can quickly deplete the body of available fluids. Substance abuse is not uncommon on the street level. While certain drugs, especially amphetamines or cocaine, create hyperthermic responses in the body under normal conditions, using speed, crack or cocaine during heat waves can spell disaster for a person.
- Living underneath a canvas tent can actually increase the heat due to the material absorbing the heat and a lack of ventilation.

For those of you who minister downtown, the City of Phoenix is increasing options for heat relief with additional hours at three cooling centers and are adding two respite centers. Now through September 30, Burton Barr Central Library will operate as a 24-hour respite center. Additionally, the Senior Opportunities West Senior Center at 7th Ave. and Buckeye will offer overnight respite hours daily from 6 pm - 5 am Yucca, Cholla, and Harmon libraries will stay open as cooling centers Mondays thru Saturdays until 10 pm. On Sundays, these three locations will open as cooling centers from noon to 10 pm. For more information about the 2024 Heat Relief Network, go to hrn.azmag.gov/.

Blessings from A to Z

While we head to camp or venture out on road trips during the summer, we play an easy alphabet game. For every letter of the alphabet, we try to state an attribute of God or name a blessing He has given us. Next, we name family members, friends, teachers and neighbors, and pray for them. The time passes quickly when everyone remembers God's character, His blessings and our friends.
