First Down with Fr. Eric

Dear Friends,

The season of Lent begins with Ash Wednesday, March 5. Our theme for the Lent/Easter season goes from, I will look twice until I see Christ in you, which looks at seeing Christ in others, to our new theme, WILL THEY SEE CHRIST IN ME? Lent is a beautiful season of learning to do self-reflection and making sure we reflect Christ in all we do and say.

I invite everyone to attend one of our Ash Wednesday Masses or Scripture Services.

March 5 - Ash Wednesday

- 6:30 am ~ Daily Mass Chapel with brief prayers and Ashes as people head to work.
- 8:00 am ~ Mass and Ashes in the church
- 10:00 am ~ Scripture Service/Ashes
- 12:05 pm ~ Mass and Ashes. Live streamed
- 1:00 - 3:30 pm ~ Confessions in the church
- 4:15 pm ~ Scripture Service/Ashes
- 5:30 pm ~ Scripture Service/Ashes

Registered parishioners will be receiving their Lent/Easter mailing with all the information for the season of Lent/Easter. Please note your packet's NEW Mass times for Holy Week and Easter. During Lent, our Narthex will have our Lent Resource table with all the information you will want for Lent.

Peace in Christ,

Fr. Eric

Christian Disciples in Mission Living Beyond Sunday

BY ERIC TAMAYO,
Pastoral Associate

Love Your Enemies

When it comes to the Bible there are a number of challenging teachings that make us really stop and think. We hear one of the most difficult teachings in today's Gospel as Jesus challenges his disciples to "love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, bless those who curse you, pray for those who mistreat you." In the Catholic Church you will often see "love" defined as "willing the good of another." It comes from St. Thomas Aquinas and is a great way of understanding love beyond emotions. Love is active, it is meant to be lived out and expressed. Someone who has love in their life isn't sitting at home watching TV all day scrolling through their phone. If we have love in our life, it should naturally draw us away from ourselves, remember love is "willing the good of another."

But, to love your enemy is a unique kind of love. Love is not rooted in having good feelings but in willing the good for them. As an exercise, I want you to think about a person you don't like. When you think of your enemy, who is the first person that comes to mind? Now with that person in your mind, think about what it means for you to love them. Jesus is not just asking you to tolerate your enemies, or even to be indifferent, he is asking you to love them.

The first thing we can do to love our enemies is respond to evil with good and not evil. The challenge is to break the cycle of violence. If someone strikes you on the cheek, give them the other, if someone takes your cloak give them your tunic as well. Loving your enemy also means praying for your enemies. Prayer is something we can all do, but how often do we dedicate time in prayer for the people who have wronged us. It is easy to love those who love us but so much harder to love those who hurt us.

In the gospel, Jesus also gives us a variation of the golden rule, "Stop judging and you will not be judged. Stop condemning and you will not be condemned. Forgive and you will be forgiven." Very simply it means treating others the way we want to be treated. To love as Christ demands us to love means both living a life of love and generosity but also a life of empathy and forgiveness.

As we prepare for Lent, this is a great time to reflect on our lives. Are there any grudges in our life that we are holding on to? Do we treat those we disagree with, with the same dignity and respect we ask for? Do we pray for those who have hurt us? Just think how different our life would be if we stopped measuring out the way we love. Jesus is challenging us to be different, to be holy, and to love as God loves.

Online Giving Transition UPDATE

Thank you to the many of you that have already transitioned your recurring gifts to our new system. We're almost at 50% of people having made the transition which is amazing!

For those still needing to move your recurring gift, a second email was sent on 2/7/25 and then a text was sent on 2/13/25 referencing the 2/7 email. The email is really the best way to transition as it contains all the information you need except the payment details. We will also be sending a letter in the mail later this week to those still needing to transition that contains a QR code which will help make the transition simple like the previous emails.

If you have any questions or are not receiving the communication, please reach out to Laurie Coffman at lcoffman@stpatcc.org 480-264-4126 or Sue Orlando at sorlando@stpatcc.org 480-264-4419 .

Thank you so much for your generous support of the good work we do at St. Patrick Catholic Community!

SMS/TEXTING COMMUNICATION

St. Patrick is beginning the process of switching our text communications from Flocknote to Rock (our current church management system).

In the next week, we will slowly begin rolling out welcome text messages for all adult heads of household that have a mobile phone number in our database. The message will say, "welcome from St. Patrick" and also give you the option to opt out of text messages if you would like. The text message will come from our main SMS number 480-571-5532.

Our plan for using texting will begin with our families that are still needing to transition their recurring donations, then moving onto our formation parents which are currently receiving texts from Flocknote. Future plans include using texting for emergency notifications and ministry leaders texting their volunteer ministers with reminders (along with emails currently being sent).

To be in compliance with the rules and laws governing texting and SMS messaging, you will always have the option to stop any texting by replying with the word "Stop".

St. Patrick is excited to begin using this tool to help enhance our communications! If you have any questions about this new process, please contact Sue Orlando at sorlando@stpatcc.org or 480-264-4119.

Social Justice

The Two Feet of Charity: A Framework for Effective Social Action

The "Two Feet of Charity" is a concept used to describe two complementary approaches to charitable action, aimed at addressing both immediate needs and long-term solutions. This framework encourages individuals and organizations to engage in both direct service and social justice work to create lasting change.

Direct Service: The first foot represents direct service, which focuses on responding to immediate needs and providing assistance to those suffering from poverty, hunger, homelessness, or other urgent issues. This can include activities like volunteering at food banks, shelters, or offering financial support to those in need. Direct service helps alleviate the immediate effects of social issues.

Social Justice: The second foot is social justice, which involves addressing the root causes of these problems through advocacy, education, and policy reform. Rather than just helping individuals cope with poverty, social justice efforts work to change the systems and structures that perpetuate inequality, such as advocating for better healthcare, affordable housing, or fair wages. Together, the Two Feet of Charity offer a holistic approach to charitable work. While direct service helps people in the short term, social justice efforts seek to create systemic changes that lead to a more equitable and just society in the long run. By walking on both feet, individuals and communities can more effectively tackle the complexities of social issues and work toward meaningful transformation.
