CHRISTIAN DISCIPLES IN MISSION

First Down with Fr. Eric

Dear Friends,

We are now at the end of July and this has been a very hot and fast summer for us. This week some schools will be getting ready to receive students on August 5. During the month of August, our parish will be offering information and registration for our formation programs for your elementary children, middle schoolers, and high school youth. Children and youth will also be able to sign up for sacrament preparation - 2nd graders for first confession, 3rd graders for First Communion and Confirmation. If there are older children needing sacraments you may speak with our formation staff and find out what is offered for the older children and youth needing sacraments.

We will also be offering our annual school blessing for all students, instructors, coaches, support staff, and anyone serving in a school setting. Let's ask God to bless all the children and their families during these last days of summer break so that they will be ready for the new school year.

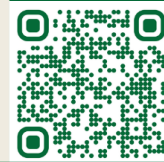

Also thank you to the many parishioners who are supporting our annual school drive. These important items for the children will help them be ready for a good experience in school. We appreciate the constant generosity of parishioners who are ready to support the needs of the greater community. Truly we are Christian Disciples in Mission.

Peace in Christ,

Fr. Eric

Blessed Bakers: Preparing for the Heavenly Feast

The account of the multiplication of loaves this week reveals the divine power of Jesus at work and it also shows the importance of food to foster community. The importance of food is seen throughout the Bible. In fact, the Bible begins and ends with a meal. The very first words of God to humans are an invitation to eat. The last act of Jesus before his death is sharing a meal with his disciples. In Scripture we also see a vision of heaven described as a joy-filled banquet. The Lord's last supper is a foretaste of this heavenly banquet, which we participate in every time we come to Mass.

Food naturally draws us into communion with one another. Just like a family who gathers together for dinner, we also come together to receive the Eucharist at Mass. That is why the Eucharist is also referred to as "Holy Communion." It is no coincidence that Jesus instituted the Eucharist within the context of a meal. Food by its very nature is communal. It should lead us to communion, with each other and with God. Gathering around a meal is a true form of hospitality because it draws us into fellowship with others.

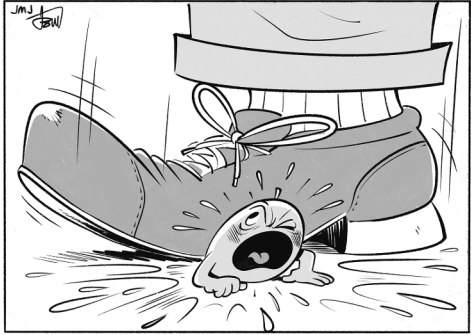

St. Patrick always strives to offer hospitality and build community in all its ministries, but one ministry in particular which incorporates good food with community is called the Blessed Bakers. The Blessed Bakers serve to provide home-baked goods for various parish events and meetings throughout the year. By sharing your food with others you can help build community and help bring others closer to God through those relationships. If you have a love for baking and would like to be a part of bringing others closer together through food, I invite you to consider being a Blessed Baker. If you are interested you can contact Rosemary Protocollo at rprotocollo@stpatcc.org for more information.

Jesus explained, "Who is greater: the one seated at the table or the one who serves? I am among you as the one who serves" (Lk 22:27). Offering food to others is an act of service that Christ displays for us by his example over and over again. Just look at the story of the multiplication of loaves. Consider following Jesus' example preparing for the heavenly feast by growing a culture of hospitality and communion and join the Blessed Bakers.

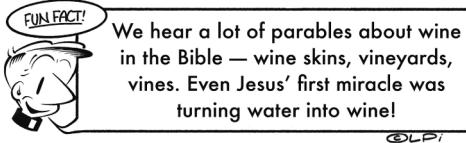

"What did the grape say when it was stepped on?"

"Nothing, it just let out a little wine."

We hear a lot of parables about wine in the Bible — wine skins, vineyards, vines. Even Jesus' first miracle was turning water into wine!

Are you having trouble hearing during Mass?

If you or someone you know is having trouble hearing during the Mass, talk to one of our Hospitality Ministers! We have nine assisted listening devices to help you hear better and enter deeper into prayer. There are two options to choose from:

- A standard ear piece that is placed in the ear, or a T-coil neck loop that is placed around the neck and connects directly to your hearing aids!

Please refer to your audiologist to ensure your hearing aids are T-coil compatible.

Our Annual Back to School Drive Final Weekend

We have reached the last weekend of our annual 2024 Back to School Supply and gift card collection. The school supplies that you have so generously brought to the parish will benefit both St. Matthew and Roadrunner Elementary Schools, and the gift cards will support the children through the prison ministry who have a family member who is incarcerated.

THANK YOU to all who have so generously donated to this drive that will assist families who struggle with financial issues keeping them from obtaining some of the basic supplies their children need to start the school year. Your contributions, either by physically bringing something to the collection bin or through your prayers, touches lives of the many in our community and gives them support.

Dear Lord,

As our students begin a new school year,

We pray that you will keep them in your care.

Send your Spirit to open their minds to all that is true and beautiful and good.

Help them to see the gifts and talents

you have given them and to use them well.

Amen.
