First Down with Fr. Eric

Dear Friends,

Jesus comes into our world to offer us something wonderful from God. He announces what we call the Good News, which is God the Father's love for all humanity. He calls forth Disciples to respond to his message, and many do respond. Here is what is revealed: that Disciples do not have only the posture of receiving. The posture is to commit with one's entire being to God's calling. When one looks closely at Jesus' words, he is saying the commitment to follow Him is more important than anything in the world. Let's repeat that. Following Jesus is more important than anything else.

Every November our parish community calls on all parishioners to make a commitment to offer ourselves to the calling of Jesus and the Good News. Our posture is not solely one of waiting for what God does for us. Rather we are called to commit ourselves to serve others. It is the central action of Discipleship.

We are asking all parishioners to make a commitment of one's financial resources, one's time and one's prayers to commit to being Christian Disciples in Mission. I am asking every parishioner if what you see St. Patrick does every day is worth giving of your financial resources? Are the many lives that are supported, loved and served worth a commitment of giving to St. Patrick?

Everyone will answer in the way they wish. I ask that everyone really considers a commitment to give to our community. Please check your mailbox for the Stewardship card sent to every parishioner. I give thanks to God for every parishioner who hears the call and responds in generosity.

Peace in Christ,

Fr. Eric

Christian Disciples in Mission Living Beyond Sunday

BY MARY PERMODA,
Director of Pastoral Activities

Great information through the Just Faith (JF) Program! Migration is a current topic, and JF has offered factual information for anyone interested.

Three speakers presented to the JustFaith Migration class and they were well received. Each spoke about their experiences in dealing with the struggles of migration and the subsequent challenges and successes they have had here in the U.S. It was also fitting because one of the speakers is from El Salvador (our own Nic Cortez's grandmother). She had lived through that period with her family.

GREAT TIMES AT THE FALL FESTIVAL

Did you know? There are more than 48,000 homeless veterans in the United States. Catholic Charities' Veterans Services in Northern Arizona serves low-income men, women and families who are facing a housing crisis to obtain stable housing.

Help support Catholic Charities' Veteran Services Program this winter by donating these items:

- coats
- winter shoes
- pants
- gloves
- scarves
- hats
- and more...

From Catholic Charities to all veterans, THANK YOU FOR YOUR SERVICE!

Stewardship

These final few weeks of the liturgical year always bring with them more “intense” readings — such as the coming of the Lord in judgment and the end times. The readings are always quick to point out that while “signs” and warnings will accompany Jesus’ second coming (as we hear about in the second reading and the Gospel), that ultimately the intention is for all of us to be ready at any time.

If Christ were to come back tonight, would that fill you with peace or with a deep-seeded desire to get to Confession?

Obviously, most of us would love to know the exact hour of Christ’s coming so we could be receiving absolution as the skies opened and Christ came down on a cloud, but it doesn’t work that way. If we are concerned about Christ’s return, that usually signals changes we need to make in our lives. Are we the foolish bridesmaids who acted as though they had no idea the groom was coming, or are we the wise one who was prepared at all times? Do we have a vibrant prayer life, do we frequent Confession and lean into the Mass, or do we only go to God when necessary or forced?

The first reading today might seem a bit out of thematic consistency when you read it, but upon a closer look we see something of an urgent pursuit. Wisdom (the Holy Spirit) is available to all who pursue it. Are we seeking the Lord passionately and urgently each day or only when we feel like it? Do we wake up and go to sleep with God on our mind and holiness the goal of our heart? If we are seeking the Lord, daily, we will be in good shape when the time comes. If we put Christ before ourselves and our own wants, and if our souls, as the psalmist says, are “thirsting for thee” we will find ourselves with full lamps joyfully awaiting the return of the One for whom we have longed.

Social Justice

Congratulations to the most recent graduates of the JustFaith Immigration Justice Class this past week. Many thanks to both Lulu O' Meara and Sally Wolfe who co-facilitated this eight-week session that took place in our Dorothy Day classroom in the House of Mercy. Participants gathered once a week on Thursday mornings to deepen their knowledge about those persons who face the struggles of migration while also learning about how Catholic Social Teaching shapes their faithful response to this social issue of migration.

Through prayer, discussion, videos, readings, and meditation the class studied topics like:

- ~ Theology of Migration
- ~ History of Immigration to the U.S.
- ~ Current immigration policies and processes
- ~ Why do people migrate?
- ~ Current issues in immigration
- ~ Advocating for change
- ~ Personal discernment of next steps

Common with the JustFaith model, guest speakers were also invited by the facilitators to come and share with the class about their personal experiences and struggles that came with migrating to the United States from their birth countries and why there was a need to flee their homes. Here is a photo of the speakers and their class in the House of Mercy:

Also, congratulations to our own 21 staff members at St. Patrick who also finished with their Eight-week session of JustFaith Crucial Conversations! We will be moving forward after the first of the year as a staff by continuing our faith development studying about Food Insecurity.
