First Down with Fr. Eric

Dear Friends,

This Thursday is Thanksgiving Day and it traditionally begins the feeling of the holidays. It is good that our country calls it Thanksgiving Day and that many people make plans to gather for the meal or for a few days to visit and reconnect. It is a huge travel time as people want to gather and celebrate.

For many this is a time for looking forward to being with family, friends and special people. It is a good time of year for them. For others it can be a very challenging time. The dynamics of family relationships can be complicated and bring out those going through a difficult time. For others it is a time of loneliness as their loved ones are no longer with them and the holidays can be a painful experience.

I would ask that we do two things this week. One is to honor those who are excited about gathering, relationships, celebrating this time of year. We can feel joy for them and it is central to being a full human being. Secondly, let us remember those who find it a challenge to be present to others during these holidays. We ask God to fill them up with patience, understanding and the blessings of presence to those we find a challenge to be with. May they rise above pain and sorrow that can be present at those moments.

I invite everyone to remember this Thursday on Thanksgiving Day that no matter what situation we find ourselves, we all can be thankful to God for blessings and His love for us. This week can be rooted with the understanding that nothing can separate us from being grateful for blessings received. May the Spirit of God remind us that each one of us can be grateful for everything good in our lives at this very moment.

Happy Thanksgiving from myself and the entire parish staff to all of you.

Peace in Christ,

Fr. Eric

Christian Disciples in Mission Living Beyond Sunday

A STEWARDSHIP PRAYER for November

Gratitude is a foundational principle of Christian stewardship, so November is a great time for stewards to contemplate giving thanks.

Thank you, Lord For all the beautiful and wonderful things we experience in our life; for the beauty of the earth and its amazing colors; for crisp autumn mornings and sparkling winter nights; for mountains and forests, rivers and seashores.

Thank you, Lord For all the beautiful and wonderful things we experience in our life; for the water that cleanses, the clothes that bring warmth, the food that nourishes and the home that gives comfort.

Thank you, Lord For all the beautiful and wonderful things we experience in our life; for those who love us and care for us; for those who value us for who we are; for those we call family, friends, neighbors.

Thank you, Lord For all the beautiful and wonderful things we experience in our life; for the gift of Christ, your son; for his life, his gospel, his cross, and his Church; for his Eucharistic meal and the promise to be with us always.

Thank you, Lord For all the beautiful and wonderful things we experience in our life; for the time you've allotted us, the life you've offered us, the opportunities you've afforded us, and the miracles you've worked for us.

Thank you, Lord For all the beautiful and wonderful things we experience in our life; and for your infinite love that meets our daily needs.

May our love, too, be known for its abundance, its readiness to bless and heal, to offer peace and promote justice, and to serve in Jesus' name. Amen.

I wanted to go to Mass on All Saint's Day. I was about two hours late getting off work. I would have just enough time to go home and change and make it there on time; but on the way home I ran out of gas on a very busy Cactus Avenue during rush hour. People were honking their horns at me, apparently frustrated that I was blocking the road at such a busy time. I was unable to reach any friends to help me. Suddenly there was a knock on my window. A foreigner asked if he could help me push my van. I was afraid that it was too big and heavy to move, besides, it was uphill at that point, and nearly half a block to the next intersection but he got behind and started pushing. Amazingly he was able to push it up a slight incline all the way to the next intersection while I sat and steered. I tried to thank him but he quickly got in his car and drove away. I didn't make it to Mass that night but I did have Communion with a real saint. Not all saints have halos.

Stewardship

In today's Gospel we hear of the rulers who sneered at Jesus, the soldiers who jeered at him, the criminal who reviled him, and the people who just stood by. At our own parish church the cross stands high. Yet, every Sunday there are those who sit in front of it and are not moved by it. There are people who walk right by the cross, unmoved by it. Perhaps they've walked by it so many times they no longer give it a second thought. Could it be they are unmoved because the heart of this unbelieving thief is in them? Good stewards walk by the cross, notice it and ask themselves: "All this you did for me, what have I done for you?"

Light to the World...John Seliga

How interesting it is that we recall certain events that happened so long ago.

When I was a very young boy, I was terribly afraid of the dark.

My mother had some friends that lived across the street from us in a small apartment house. Sometimes my mother would take me along to visit the friends, and most of the time it was at night. To get to the apartment we had to go through a dark alleyway and up some back steps.

In the dark recesses of the alley there was a big trash can, and there was a large football shaped thing sticking out of it. It was very scary, with a large grin on what looked like a face. Whenever we got near it going down the alley, I would scurry around from one side of my mother to the other. Mom would scold me and warn me that I was going to trip her doing that.

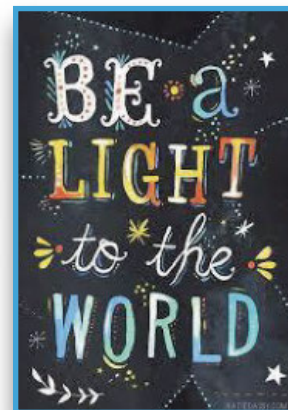

About that same period of time, I was having a recurring bad dream that always started with me sitting at the kitchen table. A large dark, sinister figure would come through the door. There was some bargaining going on. If I could run from the table through a small room and make a left turn into another room, I would be free. I never made it! When I got to the second room I would be engulfed in a thick cloudy blanket of dark. I would wake up from the dream fearfully clutching my blanket to my face. This was a recurring dream that went on for some period of time. Finally it so happened that the dream started again one time and once again I was running to get to that second room, but in front of me before making the left turn, there was a window. This time I dove through the window and, living on the third floor flat, I started falling to the ground. There was a flash of light and before I hit the ground, I woke up!

I never had that dream again and also, the scary football face across the street was gone!

So many of us are looking for the light out of the darkness. Sometimes the light comes from different things and different places. In Israel along the shore of the Dead Sea there is an accumulation of salty material. The natives of the area for centuries have scrapped up that salt deposit and formed small bricks. The bricks would be used for fuel. They could burn and provide light and fire. The fire from the bricks would heat their dome-shaped ovens and the domes got so hot they could put the dough right on top of the dome. They made their flatbread that way. The Aramaic name for the dome-shaped oven is "Earths".

So if someone refers to you as being "the salt of the earth," you are also the fire, the light.

Be the light that shines in the dark. Be a light to the world!

Cancer Related Fatigue: There is Hope!

Cancer-related fatigue (CRF, sometimes simply called "cancer fatigue") is one of the most common side effects of cancer and its treatments. Many people feel physically, emotionally and mentally exhausted most of the time, but there is hope!

Taylor Fitzgerald, a Physical Therapist at Honor Health, will offer different options that may help relieve some of the symptoms of CRF, including:

- Exercise recommendations both pre and post cancer related treatments including chemotherapy, radiation, and surgery
- Types of exercises that are beneficial
- Energy conservation techniques
- Knowing your limits while undergoing systemic chemotherapy, radiation, and post surgically

TAYLOR FITZGERALD specializes in oncology rehabilitation at HonorHealth. She graduated from NAU with her Doctorate in Physical Therapy in December of 2019 and in March of 2020 began working with the cancer population. Prior to and throughout school she has felt a pull toward the cancer community and she is looking forward to sharing her knowledge with our participants.

Alzheimer's Disease and Ways to Make the Holidays More Enjoyable

About 5.8 million people in the United States age 65 and older live with Alzheimer's disease. Of those, 80% are age

75+. It is a progressive neurological disorder that causes the brain to shrink and brain cells to die. It is progressive with a decline in thinking, behavioral and social skills that affects a person's ability to function independently. Memory loss is a key symptom. There is no cure.

Holidays can be challenging for families affected by

Alzheimer's disease or other dementia. If you know someone who is affected by dementia, think about ways you may be able to support them during the holidays.

For the caregiver and family:

Ways to help celebrate the holiday and include the person with dementia:

Create a safe and calm space with fewer decorations.

Adapt holiday activities that the person with dementia might enjoy. Prepare together. Mix batter, decorate cookies, or make simple decorations. Focus on the task rather than the outcome. Have small celebrations that are quiet and relaxed. Provide a quiet place for the person with dementia to have time alone. Keep outings brief. Make sure there is a place to rest or to take a break.

If your loved one is in a care facility—celebrate at the care facility.

Update visitors on any changes and give them tips on how to talk to the person with dementia.

Take care of yourself. Simplify celebrations, plan ahead, set boundaries, and take time for yourself to reduce your stress and the person with dementia's stress.

Thanksgiving Prayer

Good and gracious God, we give You thanks today, as we do all days, first and foremost for the gift of creation and the gift of life. We ask You to bless this food, that it may nourish us and sustain us, and strengthen our ability to do Your will. We pray in thanksgiving for all the hands involved in bringing it to our table. You tell us, Lord, that to whom much is given, much is expected. May this meal and the fellowship we enjoy not only serve as clear reminders of Your love of us, but of Your call for us to share Your love and to serve our brothers and sisters, especially those most in need. We ask this as we ask all things, through Christ, our Lord. Amen.
